

Policy Learning Platform Event 26 November 2019

On 26 November the BID-REX represented/attended the "Developing healthy and prosperous urban eco-systems" thematic workshop held in Brussels.

Nearly 40 active members of this topic met to get to know the results and exchange experience and to attend the DG ENV, DG R&I presentations. The workshop contributed with the work and experience to the preparation of the Urban Ecosystem policy brief . The policy brief aims at inspiring local policy makers to take more efforts and actions in improving their urban ecosystems.

The presented good practices were from the topics 3 main themes; Urban spaces and landscapes, Sustainable peri-urban areas and Reviving Urban Areas (the last in join session). Main proposals for the types of projects that should be supported in the current and further funding programmes and more you can read at:
